Chapter Updates:

Lou's Piet is moving along. A cable was found for the shoulder harness. Now looking for a harness to connect to it. Control cables are checked for clearances, tachometer reduction gear scheme in work and the windscreens were cleaned up some. A water temp gauge has been located for $81.00, but not yet purchased. A data plate and N number still needed but Charlie says he thinks Lou has one. He'll check.

EAA.org has an interesting article on the Pietenpol; a little history and contact information. Read Article

The TM-5 propeller is in the hangar now.

Lou is now at home, hope to see him soon at the hangar!

"THIRTY THOUSAND FEET™" "is an aviation directory with thousands of links to aviation web pages, aviation news, and other sources of commercial, military, and general aviation information."

Always ask never assume! (received this in my email recently)

His request approved, the Bulletin Newspaper
Photographer quickly used his mobile phone to Call the towns airport to charter a flight.

He was told a twin-engine plane
Would be waiting for him at the airport.

Arriving at the airfield, he spotted a plane
Warming up outside a hanger.

He jumped in with his bag, slammed the door shut,
And shouted, 'Let's go'.

The pilot taxied out, swung the plane
Into the wind and took off.

Once in the air, the photographer instructed
The pilot, 'Fly over Mount Stuart and make
Low passes so I can take pictures
Of the fires on the hillsides.'

'Why?' asked the pilot.

'Because I'm a photographer for the Bulletin'
He responded, 'and I need to get
Some close up shots.'

The pilot was strangely silent for a moment,
Finally he stammered, 'So, what you're telling me,
Is . . . . You're NOT my flight instructor?'

This should also be applied to: If you're not sure..... ask.

If there are any member projects on-going or finished, we would love to hear and see them: please send pictures and updates to:
